dee upon the approach of an enemy. Fort Massac .- In these war times Fort Masac, in Illinois, just he're Paducat, has an inter-acting history. Before St. Luis was, it was UNION CAMP CHEST known in history and the capitals of Europe. It was a French trad og post and fort, so far b ch as during the old French and Luglich wars, long be fore the Revolutimary war. Hillin is was then French territory, Kantucky was in posses lon of the English. The French evacuated the fort, and lu a few days a great many bar: appear don the river banks, and in full view to the English fom w Union Camp Chest, the Kentucky shere. Thicking they would have a nice da,'s sport builting bears, they coused the river. No sooner had they landed than the board suddenly turned into Indians; the Indians were dressed in bear-kins, and they rushed on to the unsuspecting English and massicred every one of them, hence the name of lort Massacre, for PANTRY, STOVE, AND TABLE, short Fort Massac-and this same place is now the result of a recet careful study of the accessities and incidents of campaigning and of the articles in use garriconed by four hundred Union cavelry.

If this war should last five years, at a cost of five hundred millions a year, over and above the income from direct and indirect taxes, we cuntry—the cost of the war in money, the should make our children the foremost nation aestions of public eredit, taxes, currency, on earth, and oblige them to pay, therefor, one hundred and tifty millions a year. This is less, a good deal, than the yearly interes paid on the present national debt of Gre-Britain; and it is extremely probable it could be raised, in a prosperous condition of the country, by indirect taxes, without detriment to a single one of its great interests and with great advantages to many of them. such topics can do no greater service to the But, in truth, I may say, the war will not cost so much as five hundred millions a year over and above the ordinary income; nor will the war last five years, nor will there be any difficulty, under a wise and conomical ad ministration of public affairs, for the same generation that unakes the war debt, to pay its nterest, and gradually to redeem the debt itself. Nay a previous limitation stated by us, is theoretically true, only in a certain sense For any man, or any nation in good eredit can borrow, from other men and other nation and do so borrow continually, immense sum of money, on the credit not of surplus accu nulation, nor even of gross income-but of he capital itself .- nay, often, to the value an enormous credit beyond the value of the capital itself. We were originally a thrifty eople, comoninal in paring salaries, averto high taxes, and shy of public debts, som of the loyal portion of the nation, and it is adulgence in which latter, in later years, he not made us more favorable to them. But of all absurdities, none can be more palpabl than the idea of any inherent pecuniary diffi culty on the part of the American people, in carrying out this war to complete triumph Undoubtedly, this is on the supposition of com petent skill, in the raising and disburseine of such immense sums of money. And, so far as we are informed and are competent t judge, there is much reason to ascribe th highest capacity to the present Sceretary of the Treasury. Undoubtedly also, it is on the fur ther supposition that this vast fund is neithe stolen, nor perverted, nor used wastefully and fraudulently; but that it is skilfully, faithfully, and economically applied to its right use, b the agents of the Government, through who hands it passes. To this end, it is probable urther legislation by Congress is neededwell as a sleepless vigilance on the part of the public-and the condign punishment, without spect to persons, of all official corruption. There are some other topics of much inter est, touching which wo had designed to sa omething, -as, for example, the question caper currency, whether furnished by the evernment or the Banks, in its relation he circulation of the precious metals and the sassible drain of them from the country-and the bearing of the actual management of the public finances upon these questions, and upon the internal trade of the country, by means of he substitution of cash payments, instead of redits, both in public and private transactions But great as the bearing of these topics i upon the general questions we are discussing the topics themselves are too much beside th ommon knowledge of mankind, to be very clearly stated in the remaining space allotted this portion of this paper. We conten urselves, therefore, with saying, that, in our pinion, an incompetent Secretary of the INFANTRY BOOTEES Treasury had it completely in his power to have placed the public finances in a condition out of which immediate and ruinous discredi to the Government would have sprung, -and, as a consequence, the general circulation of a depreciated paper currency, the disappearanco value of property, the impossibinty of active trade, and the gradual impoverishment of the country, in the midst of the war. Instead f calamities so untimely and dreadful, seems to us perfectly clear that the course taken by Mr. Chase has had a most powerful influence in maintaining the public credit at a doubt, the cry map real military movement retribution; but we do not see how they can very high point; in opening to the Government as a favored borrower, the whole untixed wealth of the nation; and in aiding in a very igh degree, the rapid development of that resperity which the industrial condition of the intry exhibits in all the loyal States. The reports of the Ward C. mmittees of the ity and county, of the Ladies' Soldiers' Reliaf Association which appear in the Journal to-day, give the results of the fourth wa k of the efforts of the loyal ladies in this city for the benefit of the soldiers. We hope that there will be no falling off in these efferts. Each loyal lady should consider herself a committee of one to pay attention to these pious, these health-giving cares, which make glad the life-blood of the nation. In the shock of battle it is the daty of each soldier to act. as though the entire result depended upon his individual conduct. This should be the spirit of all heart in the British flee! when Nelson announced the signal of battle: "hingland expects each man that each loyal son and denghter of her domain shall do his or her whole duty.

to the ladies that the most imperative want of he soldiers now is such mittens and woolen socks as we have heretofora described. Surely the 80,-000 loyal voters of Kentucky will ose that all sufficient aid chall be given to the loyal ladies to secure an ample atock of their articles for all the oldiers in the State, and for all that may be sent here. Let the articles be burried up so that our oldiers may reach regions where woolens are un-THE FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT .- WO presume that one of the earliest acts of the Lagialature, upon its reassembling, will be to declare the cent of Mr. Burnett vacant, as "treasons captal, conferred and proved, have overthrown him. He has acted openly with traitors in the Russellville Convention, and, having declared our Legislature a usurping body, its own dignity demands that he should be summarily dealt with. Among the gentlemen who have been mentioned as most worthy to succeed Mr. Burnett is Lucien J. Andereor, Leq., of Mayfield. He is thoroughly reliabla on the Union question, and, though residing in the very hotbed of secession, where it requires firmness of purpose and a high degree of lor to declare a loyal attachment to the Constitution of our fathers and the Government of Vashington, he has never qualled before the ruftian sympathizers with the Confederates nor besitated to lift up his voice in their denunciation Now that Judge Williams has taken the field as a soldier, we feel every confidence that the Union men of the district will naturally turn towards Mr. Anderson as one every way quelified to wipe eway the diagrace which our State has incurred the defection of Burnett. If the First District has a nobler son, we congratulate it, but he does not come within the range of our acquaintance.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT NEWS.

The river is falling at this point, with six feet nine inches water in the canal last evening. The weather is very cold and cloudy. Snow fell yecterday during the greater part of the day, but did not remain on the ground.

There was some excitement created on Saturday, by the announcement that an order had been assued to discontinue all communication by boat tween Louisville and points below. Such an der had been issued, and in pursuance of the rder the steamer Nashville, bound from Cincinati for St. Louis, was datained several hours. ien. John Milliken, who was formerly the Postmaster at Padncah, has met a deserved fate. Since secession was first planned in Kentucky he has been among the foremost in the rebellion, and when the Federal troops were about to occupy his town he left for blayfield, and has since then been uncorupnious and unsparing in his persecution of avery one who was loyal to his country. On Tuesday of last week he entered a house where he found two Union men, and commenced in the most vituperative language to threaten them, and, having lashed himself into fury, he finally struck one of them. As quick as the thunder follows the lightning's flash, the report of a mucket tents, killing him instantly. This terribla retribution will, it is hoped, have the effect the loyal people in this Commonwealth. Each to deter others from the commission of simione should feel the electric thrill that moved every lar outrages. And they who etrike us, strike the world."

The Sanitary. Commissioners request us to say leave their homes, and they subject them to the secessionists, because they will be able to identify them and bear witness against them for their ruthless deeds. In view of the great importance of having a full regiment recruited from the First district, we hope the Military Board will make an exceptional case in favor of Col. Williams and give him an extension of time instead of consolidating his companies into some other regiment. They know every foot of ground in regiment. They know every foot of ground in the infected district south of the Tennessee river, and in a short time they will be able to clear it of every eneaking rebel who is now committing depredations. Greal Britain.—The speech of Mr. Adams, the American Minister, at the Lord Mayor's hanquet, has attracted considerable attention; ha was sillout as to the wer, but very pacific towards England. The London Daily Times says it was frank, manify, sensible, and reasonable, and must be cordially welcomed by England at large; especially as a small but active faction is doing its numost to misrepresent American diplomacy and create feeling. The London Morning Post easys that the speech was marked by the most friendly statements respecting the good feeling of the American Government and people towards England, and hepes that no occurrence will happen to belie these statements.

can Government and people towards England, and hopes that no occurrence will happen to belia these statements.

The London Times is characteristically sarcastic, last at the same time complimentary to Mr. Adams. Dudley Mann and Yancey were guests at the grand han just of the Fishmongers Company in London. The latter spoke to a toast for the restoration of peace.

Referring to American affairs he spoke strong ly, in defence of the Confederata causa, eulogized England for her recognition of helligerent rights, and said the Confederate did not desire intervention, being able to maintain their independence, but they did desire a recognition by the Powers. He asserted that there can be no hasis for negotiation so long as the Confederate will be inflexible only on points of independence and honor.

A letter to the Herald from Geo. F. Train, dated London, November 9, states that several vescels loaded with stores and ammunition for the rebuls had alroady lett for the Nouthern States, and others were preparing to fellow. The night before his letter was written, the Gladister, one of the old Liston acrew steamers, took on brad, a few miles below London, a full cargo of arms and munitions of war, and was to clear the next day for Teneriffe and Nassau. The estimated value of the eargo is $300,000, and it comprises everything necessary for the equipment, so fir as arms are concerned, of an army of 25,000 men. Ho states, in addition, that the Englash Government have recently sold nine condamned sloops of war to a party which has disposed of them since to the rebel Navy Department. Besides these, two East ladia man-of-war, of 1800 tons and 800 horse power, each, are in treaty for.

Ballimore, Nov. 22.

Gen. Dix received desputches to day advising him that the disorganization of the rebel forces was general in the Peninsula.

Captain Richard's cavalry had been despatched before the messenger 1sft, to take possession of six brees cannon known to be near the town of Olney, Gov. Wise's old residence, and had doubtlessly done so.
